FORESTRY LEADERS INSTITUTE CAMPAIGN

GEORGIA SCHOOL CHILDREN
ARE ASKED TO AID IN MOVEMENT TO SAVE TIMBER.

Those patriotic Georgians who have contributed to the support of the Forestry Association of their state since its organization in 1922, have every reason to be proud of recent developments in several lines of its activities.

The State Board of Forestry reorganized and made effective in 1925 through the continued efforts of this association, made a most remarkable record for the first two years of its existence as an administrative body. With approximately 3,000,000 acres of forest land now listed under co-operative protection, this state department has recently conducted a most practical demonstration in fire-line construction at Waycross. This will have far-reaching results throughout the pine belt of the South.

The dairy demonstration team is now planned to make these demonstrations an annual event when all types of plows, tractors and other machinery will be tested out on rough ground for determining the cost of fire-line construction and the most efficient equipment for this work. Next year will bring the largest demonstration of logging woods, using methods of all kinds and thinning of young stands of timber, as well as protective and administrative methods that go with all forest crops, from seed to sale. The machinery people and land owners will co-operate with the State Forestry Department in making Georgia Forestry Service Fair a success in 1928. The Georgia Forestry Association rejoices in the great possibilities now opened in this new field for practical results in protection, administration and utilization of forest products.

In order that the state department may give closer attention to the first aid and relief work for the present crippled condition of our forest lands in Georgia, the Georgia Forestry Association plans to give its best efforts to educational work through the public schools and within a radius of about 100 miles will be visited by a motorcycle of representative Savannahians.

The tour begins Wednesday morning, October 11, starting from the DeSoto Hotel at 8 o'clock and ending early Friday night. Arrangements are now being made by Secretary Herbert for meals and hotel accommodations en route, the first night to be spent at Statesboro and the second night at Waycross. The invitation is to be extended to all Savannahians, whether members of the Savannah Motor Club or not, to join in the motorcycle, and one of the comforting features of the trip will be the fact that the service truck of the club will accompany the tour on the entire trip, giving free service of all kinds to everybody.

Among the speakers who will be requested to join the motorcycle are Mayor Hoynes, Judge O. T. Bacon, Gordon Sausy, W. G. Suttive, Harry Granger, S. N. Harris and P. M. Oliver.

President Wortman has appointed the following as a committee of the whole with Thomas A. Jones as general chairman: A. B. Levy, T. F. Cook, Mose Berman, M. B. Lee, F. C. Batty, H. V. Jenkins, W. G. Suttive, E. T. Sheffall and A. M. Dixon.

MISS HENRIETTA HEGMANN DIES IN SAVANNAH. Miss Henrietta Hegmann, aged 73 years, died Saturday morning at her home in Savannah after an illness of long duration. Internment was in Bonaventure cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Miss Hegmann is survived by several nieces and nephews and other relatives, many of whom live in Bulloch county.

HOME IS DESTROYED BY EARLY MORNING BLAZE

WATSON MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR

Friends of J. G. Watson, and they are legion throughout the county, will be interested to learn that he has in mind the possibility of becoming a candidate for tax collector of the county. Mr. Watson has been connected with banking and insurance for more than 30 years. He is acquainted with practically all the voters and business people of the county. He is in every way qualified for the office, and if he decides to run it is certain that he will have backers in every section of the county.

These assets, according to S. C. Groove, master of exchequer of Statesboro Lodge No. 97, show that the order has developed along lines which guarantee a permanent growth of the fraternity. "The subordinate lodge assets amount to slightly over $25,000,000," said Mr. Groove, "of which a very large part represents money invested in lodge buildings. In many grand divisions, approximately one half of the lodges own their own homes. Last year more than $6,000,000 was invested in buildings for use of lodges. Real estate owned by lodges is appraised at more than $12,000,000. Lodges have over $2,000,000 in cash and more than $7,000,000 in investments, mostly bonds of the government."

The report read before the lodge by W. P. Key, keeper of records and seal, showed the grand lodges in a most healthy condition. Real estate owned by lodges, by those bodies approximate $6,000,000. A large part of this is invested in buildings in larger cities of the United States and Canada, according to Mr. Key. Some of the most important buildings, he said, are located in Indianapolis, Ohio, Michigan, Missouri, Texas and New York. The Indiana Pythian building, the first of its kind, is valued at more than a million dollars. It is located in Indianapolis, having been erected 15 years ago by the grand lodge, Ohio 1462, which has nearly a million invested in home buildings at Springfield, Miss. It has a magnificent home building and is now ready to erect a $2,000,000 structure in St. Louis. Michigan recently completed a large hotel and lodge building at Detroit for $1,200,000. New York Pythians dedicated a building in New York City in June which cost upwards of a million dollars.

"One of the most important features of the report," according to E. A. Woods, chancellor of Georgia Pythians, "is the fact that the lodge owners are greatly benefited by the use of these buildings for lodge, community and welfare meetings. The report is a real proof that the order is making substantial gains in class of membership and in assets of a nature that guarantees its permanence and growth."

Lodge assets and assets held by the insurance department amounting to $20,000,000, gives the order assets of more than $50,000,000, according to the report.

STATSBORO CITIZEN IS DINED IN ATLANTA. While spending the better part of last week in Atlanta, G. Armstrong West was entertained and dined at banquets of Yaarab Patrol A. A. O. N. S., and the Paper Jobbers Association of the South, of both of which he is a member.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS SHOW RAPID GROWTH

REPORT FROM GRAND LODGE OFFICERS DISCLOSES GOOD GENERAL CONDITION.

Membership of the order Knights of Pythias is approximately 800,000, with 55 grand lodges including six in the Dominion of Canada. Ohio has the largest membership of any domain, 90,000. Georgia has a membership of 8,000.

Total assets of subordinate lodges and grand lodges of the Knights of Pythias at the close of the fiscal year, June 30th, were $31,088,560, according to fiscal year report issued recently by the supreme lodge finance committee and Harry M. Love, supreme chancellor of records. The tabulations were completed at a meeting of the finance committee held in Minneapolis, Minnesota. The assets included cash on hand, real estate, buildings and furnishings, bond investments and life insurance, owned by lodge members and their families.

Palmer and Sons main store and the Royal Pharmacy, and will continue the drug business at the Royal Pharmacy stand.

Dr. Moon came to Athens to accept a position with a local firm in 1918, and by his kind and courteous manner and efficiency has built up a large clientele. THREE ARE HELD FOR MAKING BEER. (Savannah Morning News) Declarations that "everybody is selling it," that the county authorities pay no attention to such cases and that the grand jury has taken no action in such matters, were made before George Noble Jones, United States commissioner, by Ben Mooney, farmer, and Hoyt Griffin and B. A. Aldred, merchants of Statesboro and vicinity, at a preliminary hearing yesterday on charges of selling intoxicants in the form of beer containing more than the legal alcoholic content.

The three men were allowed to return to their homes after the hearing, with the understanding that they would immediately make the necessary bond of $500 each, under which they are held for trial in federal court. They are to make the bond through J. J. E. Anderson, Statesboro attorney who represented them at the hearing yesterday.

When arraigned before Commissioner Jones, the defendants freely admitted keeping the beer in ice boxes and selling it along with soft drinks. They declared that every one was doing the same thing, and that because the county authorities and the grand jury had taken no action it was all right for them to do so.

Mr. Mooney is a farmer living about six miles east of Statesboro. He is a federal agent, he manufactures "home brew," a large quantity of which was found on his place when it was raided. Mr. Griffin operates a store and filling station on the road to Register, about nine miles from Statesboro, and Mr. Aldred operates a store and filling station on South Main street in Statesboro. The latter two men were charged with selling the beer.

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

Brooklet high school opened Monday, September 12th, with an excellent enrollment and a large crowd of patrons and friends present. Prof. Guy H. Wells, of the Georgia Normal, made the opening address. The outlook for Brooklet school for the year of 1927-28 is the most promising of any year in the school's history. For the first time the new school house is being used. The old has been remodeled and is modern in every essential way. The Brooklet school plant, including the equipment, is valued at approximately $50,000. In all probability Brooklet will be placed on the A-1 list of accredited schools during the present term.

The board of education while in regular monthly session held at this office last Tuesday, decided that the schools should open the 19th of September where practical and those schools that are located in sections having cotton not picked that would prevent opening this date, to open the 3rd day of October. During this term of 1927-28 only two holidays will be given. These are field day and Thanksgiving day. School day at the county fair will be made up later during the public term. Tuesday, October 7th, will be school children's day at the fair. But one week will be given for Christmas holidays. Schools will be required to open Monday, January 1st, 1928, for the spring term. Teachers and trustees should bear these facts in mind and be governed accordingly.

The Stilton high school opened Monday, September 12th, with an enrollment of approximately 270 students. The finest spirit ever manifested in this community was shown at the opening. More citizens were present than could get into the big auditorium. No doubt Stilton will have another good school year during the term of 1927-28. They have the proper spirit of co-operation and see the need of having a school second to none.

Register and Portal schools opened September 12th with prospects of good school year. Definite data is available at this writing.

The teachers of the county will be asked to meet about the first Saturday in October for the purpose of organizing regular monthly meetings and to get registers and general instructions for use in the schools during the year of 1927-28. Definite plans will be made and all the teachers personally notified in due time.

The first pay roll this year will be approved the first Tuesday in November as it will be then before we are able to reach sufficient funds from the 1927 tax levy with which to pay the first pay roll. In case the public school term opens before the first of October, the sum due for teaching that has been properly reported and audited, will be included in the first pay roll. Bear this in mind, the first Tuesday in November the first pay roll to be approved and the first Saturday in November will be the first pay day for the term of 1927-28.

CONVENTION, BAND AND ORCHESTRA MUSIC, FIREWORKS EVERY NIGHT, A HIGH-CLASS CARNIVAL MIDWAY, ALONG WITH A COMPLETE AGRICULTURAL FAIR AND LIVE STOCK SHOW.

All former residents of the county now scattered throughout Georgia and in practically every state of the union, are being especially urged to make their plans to bring their families and enjoy the week of reunion and royal entertainment that is in store for them, while a general invitation is extended the public at large to attend the great Centennial and witness its spectacular attractions.

COWETA COUNTY WILL HAVE BIG HOME-COMING

Newnan, Ga., Sept. 13.—Preparations are rapidly being completed for entertainment of the largest crowds in the history of Newnan and Coweta county during the week of September 27th to October 1st, when thousands of former residents will turn their faces back to their old home and gather for the great Centennial celebration marking the hundredth anniversary of the county of Coweta.

The Centennial celebration will be held in connection with the annual county fair, and elaborate plans give assurance that the occasion will be one of rare historical and sentimental interest not only to the present inhabitants of the county, but also to the thousands of former residents who will grasp this opportunity to return to the scenes of their childhood, mingle with relatives and friends, and look again into faces they have not seen for many years.

The week's entertainment will be crowded with highly interesting features, including addresses by former Coweta citizens, a parade of floats portraying the county's past and present progress, an allegorical pageant symbolizing its whole hundred years of history, a reunion of all war veterans, coronation of queen of the pageant, military drills, school and athletic contests, and in addition, a baby show, horse racing, singing contests, an old-time fiddlers' convention, band and orchestra music, fireworks every night, a high-class carnival midway, along with a complete agricultural fair and live stock show.

A COMEDY DRAMA
"IS ZAT SO?"
THURSDAY and FRIDAY, SEPT. 15th and 16th.

With Geo. O'Brien and Edmund Lowe, based on the play by James Gleason. An Alfred E. Green production. The screen version of the great Broadway stage hit. There may be nothing new under the sun, but there is something decidedly novel in the idea of a prize fighter and his manager breaking into high society and staging a bout in the conservatory of a Fifth Avenue mansion, then winning the hearts and hands of two of the inmates. "Is Zat So?" Yes, "it is," one of the most amazing pictures made in many months. Coming, "Is Zat So?" Yes; Fildom's two most virile male stars, George O'Brien of "The Iron Horse" and "3 Bad Men," and Edmund Lowe of the great "What Price Glory," in a double-barreled love story, a prize fighter and his manager in high society. "THE FUNNYMOONERS" as medicine, it will make a sick man well.

A COMEDY DRAMA
"THE STRONG MAN"
SATURDAY and MONDAY, SEPT. 17th and 19th

With Harry Langdon, directed by Frank Capra Langdon. The strong man—he couldn't raise a two-pound dumb-bell, but you ought to see him pick up a dame. He was booked for small time vaudeville, but he broke into a big time love affair. He was strong in the heart, but weak in the knees. Instead of practicing bending iron bars on his head, he rehearsed twisting pink arms around his neck. You will delight seeing Harry wandering through the streets of New York, stopping every other girl to see if she was Mary, the girl who wrote him "Buddy Letters," while he was on the battlefield. "The Strong Man," with a snap of his fingers he breaks the iron bands that hold back Kid Joy from rocking Old Man Gloom to sleep. He's so strong he can raise a ton of litters in one hand and a load of laughs in the other. "Is Zat So?" It is. He's a very strong man. In his "LONG PANTS," a comedy that will make you shake with laughter like a mule from a wallow.

A HUMAN INTEREST DRAMA
"GIGOLO"
TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 20th and 21st

Rod LaRocque and Jobyna Ralston. From the novel by Edna Ferber. Directed by William K. Howard. The story deals with the experiences of an American aviator during the war. His face is mutilated and remade thro' plastic surgery. He becomes king of the Gigos, or a professional dancer for pay, and while doing so he meets his girlhood sweetheart in dramatic circumstances; an interesting love romance that comes to a happy ending. Can you dance the latest steps? See "Gigolo," the greatest comedy in Paris. A picture story filled with drama, comedy, pathos and poignant human interest. "Gigolo" tells the story of a boy from the Cornfed section of the U. S. A. to the French flying squadron. Extra, "PATHE NEWS NO. 74." It knows all.

EATONTON AND PUTNAM
100 PER CENT AND MORE

Residents of this community who recall the days of a third of a century ago when that well known stock man Sam Sasser began to bring good grade cattle into Bulloch county, will remember that Sasser brought them from Eatonton and Putnam county.

Mr. Sasser never brought any sorry cattle from there—they were all good and better. It is well remembered that in one shipment of animals there was a very pretty milk cow which attracted the admiration of a prospective buyer. The prospect asked Sasser if she was full-blood Jersey, and he replied, "No, she's better than a full-blood; she's seventeen-sixteenths Jersey." From that day to the present Sam Sasser's expression has arisen in the mind when anything was above perfection. Sasser wasn't saying anything smart, nor was he speaking in exact terms of mathematics; he meant to give the cow as high praise as was possible without claiming more than she was entitled to. He had in mind that whatever she lacked of being pure-bred, was not to her discredit. And it wasn't. She was a good cow. That is the kind of cattle that Eatonton and Putnam county always have and the only kind they sell.

Since returning from the annual meeting of the Georgia Press Association at Eatonton two weeks ago, there has been continually dwelt in our mind the memory of Sam Sasser's cow that was above perfect. Having spent two or three most delightful days in the town of Eatonton and circulating throughout the county, there has been made plain to us the possibilities of a state above perfection. Eatonton proved to the editors of Georgia that one hundred per cent, plus is a reality in her conduct toward her visitors. For three days there was jammed into every minute something of enjoyment and betterment, and these combinations make apparent the more than 100 per cent which Sam Sasser claimed for the Putnam county Jersey cow.

BROOKLET HIGH SCHOOL

Brooklet high school opened September 12th. There was a very large enrollment, President Wells, of the Georgia Normal, was with us and gave a splendid talk, in which he told us about the six things that are necessary to make a good school. They are good will, financial support, good material, buildings, leadership and teachers. Several others gave short talks. There was a good attendance of patrons and friends.

Last year we had outdoor chapel exercises, which was very inconvenient. This year we have chapel in our new auditorium.

A representative from the Elliot Ring Co. came to see the seniors on Tuesday, September 6th.

The senior class held its first meeting Monday, September 12th. Robert Beall was elected president, Carolyn Shearouse, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Strickland, from Jake Pine, Inc., came Thursday, September 8th. He presented the high school students with dictionaries, and tablets and pencils to the grammar grades.

The P.T.A. held its first meeting Thursday, September 8th. A very interesting program was rendered. Delicious refreshments were served at the close. The officers of the P.T.A. are as follows: Mrs. R. H. Warnock, president; Mrs. J. L. Simon, vice-president; Miss Lola Wyatt, secretary; Mrs. John A. Robertson, treasurer.

DENMARK SCHOOL

The Denmark Junior High school will open September 19th for the term of 1927-28 with the following teachers: Mrs. Horn, principal; Miss Ruby Wynn, Miss Marie Wynn and Miss Bessie Nimmons, assistant.

We specially desire that all pupils enter the first day. All patrons are requested to be present at the opening exercises.

On Friday, Sept. 16th, there will be a working at the school house, and we earnestly desire the hearty co-operation of each and every one. G. W. BRAGG, Chairman, C. C. DeLoach, Secretary, DENMARK.

A Serviceable Wagon For Long Hauls

Here's a wagon that will stand up under long hauls over all kinds of roads in any weather. If you are interested in reducing your hauling costs, come in and let us explain the many points of the

Triumph Wagon

This wagon has a number of long-life features of construction to be found in the more expensive John Deere Wagon. Proper bracing and clipping throughout in assembling the gear are given particular attention in the John Deere Triumph Wagon. Proper setting of skids on the axle and correct dish of the wheels make it light-running.

Special attention is given to the construction of the wheels—one of the most vital parts of the wagon. Tires are set hot under heavy hydraulic pressure. This prevents the breaking of the fiber in the iron which is caused when the tires are set cold. Paints used on the John Deere Triumph are of the same high quality as used on John Deere Wagons.

Come in and inspect the Triumph. We will be glad to show it to you any time.

and are not so dreadful as they appeared at the distance!

We are not going into detail, but since we have mentioned the Putnam county cattle, it is fitting that we should state that the trip through the county had been planned purposely to bring the dairymen of Putnam before us. By the roadside as we passed along there were great herds of the prettiest milkers we ever saw, lazily feeding in the pastures whether they had been carried for the special delight and observation of the visitors. We could not even suggest how many cows we saw in these herds as we drove on, but there were many of them—far more than we had ever seen before in all our life.

At one point in the road we passed a truck bearing the name of the Dublin creamery upon the side, coming down out of that hilly country. It was explained to us that Dublin was buying sour cream from Putnam and sending trucks all that distance for it, and finding it profitable.

Particularly fortunate did we find ourselves in having as personal chaperons for our party on this trip to the country Miss Fannie Lee Leverett, a woman of charm and ability as a writer who pointed out to us as we traveled the worth while and interesting things of the trip. She is acquainted with Putnam county from every angle and she can tell it to you and write it for you in such a way as to keep you charmed. Not only is she a talker and a writer, but at the dinner table back at Oconee Springs, where the country people of Putnam county had spread the most marvelous dinner of barbecue and other accessories, she never let you get idle. She had no regard for thought that one might over-eat, and here again one almost wore out the brakes in holding back.

But that one day was only the beginning. Dinners by day and dinners by night kept the party enthralled. Personally the Times representatives were fortunate in assignment to homes. The two ladies of the party found themselves the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Champion, whose hospitality was so gracious as to make one wish that the time would never call one back to earth again. The editor counts himself the most fortunate in having fallen into the hands of those charming people, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dunwoody, who apparently forgotful of every other call for the time, left nothing undone that could bring pleasure to their guests.

Eatonton and Putnam county and their people are 100 per cent plus!

FULFORD'S BUS LINE
RESTORES BIG PULLMAN

The big passenger bus installed by Fulford's bus line last year, which has been laid up for renewal during the past few months, has been again put on duty and is now making daily round trips between Swainsboro and Savannah via Statesboro, carrying full loads of passengers almost every trip. With its new coat of yellow, this bus presents an attractive appearance and its popularity is proven by the traffic which has been attracted by the line. In addition to the Pullman, the passenger cars continue their trips also, making the schedule by way of Port and Garfield.

BICKERS TO PUBLISH A COLLECTION OF POEMS

(Savannah Morning News)
D. G. Bickers, associate editor of the Savannah Morning News, is preparing for publication a special autographed edition of his newspaper poems which have appeared in many papers throughout the state of Georgia for the last twenty-five years. The edition will be ready for distribution about December 1st.

For ten years Mr. Bickers' daily "Good Morning" verse has appeared in the Morning News and for ten years it was a daily feature of the Athens paper, and for some time in one of the New York papers. The same style of verse, appearing at various times under different titles, has been published in the Macon Telegraph for twenty-five years. There have been in all more than 10,000 of these daily verses published.

In recent years Mr. Bickers has had many inquiries and requests for collections of his best poems, and he has decided to select from 250 to 300 and incorporate them in a special gift volume, sent exclusively to those friends in Georgia and some other sections, who have in advance indicated that they wish a copy or copies. This edition will be limited to those who ask for copies in advance. Mrs. Virginia F. Cullen, of the staff of the Morning News, is handling the preparation of the work and all requests for additional volumes are being addressed to her.

The volume will consist of groupings under general subjects "poems of the home," "sentimental," "patriotic and war-time selections," "the philosophy of life," "devotional" and "verses for special occasions," days, anniversaries and the like, thus making the volume one for convenient reference as well as an attractive gift volume. Mr. Bickers plans to make the collection typical of the best things in those little daily features which have become a fixed item in the editorial page of the News and also other papers.

About five hundred requests are on file with Mrs. Cullen and it looks as though the whole first edition will be subscribed for before the date of publication.

The title of the forthcoming volume will probably be "Just verses," the run-in head of his daily verse as carried in the Macon Telegraph years ago. This title occasioned many comments during those years and of all the various headings this one has been the most popular and is more closely associated with Mr. Bickers' verses than the later headings.

Jim Mathews says it doesn't take a girl long to learn that a ring on the finger is worth fifty on the telephone.

"You may have also noticed that a boy never has any trouble learning the things he ought not to know," says Albert Deal.

"As a rule, most of us know just exactly what should be done if some other fellow would get busy and do it," says Pete Donaldson.

Dr. Mooney says it doesn't cost anything to tell a sick man he is looking fine, and it brings him a million dollars' worth of comfort.

It's a long time back, but Judge Proctor says he can remember when buttons stayed on a shirt two or three weeks after you bought it.

Walter McDougald says one of the pests he runs into occasionally is the fellow who makes you wish you had an umbrella every time he laughs.

"The man who marries a girl because she is a talented musician," argues D. Friedman, "seems to forget that she can't fry a steak on a piano."

W. B. Moore says he enjoys going to a picnic because it helps a fellow to overcome dignity—especially if a nest of red ants starts working up his pants leg.

"About the only time I ever feel like calling a man a liar," says Jack Murphy, "is when I hear a politician talking about the great happiness to be found in poverty."

Paul Franklin says if some men do not get two kinds of meat, three kinds of vegetables and some kind of dessert for their evening meal, they think their wives are putting them on a diet.

"Many a man who believes the world will weep endless tears when he goes, would probably be surprised if he could come back an hour or two afterward and see what actually happens," says Leroy Cowart.

HOW RAILWAYS ARE A CO-OPERATIVE BUSINESS

Describing the American railroad as this country's "greatest co-operative enterprise," President J. P. Pelley of the Central of Georgia in a statement issued today discusses the divisions of benefits resulting from good railroad service. He says that the public, the employees and the owners are the three human factors fundamental to railroad operation, and that each of these benefits from more efficient service.

"Comparing the results of 1926 with those of 1925, the public is the principal beneficiary," according to Mr. Pelley. "The average rate per ton per mile the public paid for freight service in 1926 was less than in 1925, and this decreased rate saved the public about 120 million dollars last year. The public treasury further benefited by the increased tax payments of the railroads, which amounted to 30 million dollars more than in 1925, making a total of 150 million dollars as the public's share."

Speaking for the Class 1 railroads, Mr. Pelley says that of the increased earnings in 1926 the employees received 96 million dollars more than during the preceding year, there being an increase in both the number of employees and in their average compensation. The owners of the railroads received 93 million dollars more in 1926 than in 1925. Their share of the benefits amounted to 27.6 per cent, compared with 28.4 per cent for the employees and 44 per cent for the public.

Mr. Pelley recognizes the necessity for the railroads to hold the good will of the public, the loyal and efficient service of their employees and the confidence of the investor, and says that good railroad service friendly relations between the railroads, their patrons and their employees.

About the only time the average married man fools his wife is the day he marries her.

Almost any man can tell you that this would be a great country if every man was half as decent as he thinks he is.

Isn't it remarkable how much patience the average man can have with a woman so long as he isn't married to her?

GRAPHIC OUTLINES OF HISTORY

ROMAN BAKERY
(From the frieze on a tomb)

The flour mills where grain was ground and the bakeries of early Rome were crude affairs in comparison to those of today. A large part of the population was engaged in the making of bread as it was the chief food of the country's plebeian and serf classes.

Studios application, scientific research, and a genuine desire to serve has developed in our profession a dignified helpful art of ceremony.
